Kevin Sorrells, 8, a Gene Howe second grader, peers over a library book he's enjoying in the school's library. Reading at all levels in the Canyon School District will be stressed next fall as teachers and administrators strive to make what they believe is a good program better. Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sorrells of 8603 Olympia Drive, Amarillo.

Reading for skill and for enjoyment to be stressed in fall in schools

If Johnny can't read after next year it won't be because the Canyon School District didn't try to give him every opportunity to learn and enjoy books.

Instruction in reading will be intensified next school year in the elementary grades at Rex Reeves School and Gene Howe School through a $7600 federal grant, and reading will be stressed in every grade as the school district undertakes a general reading improvement program.

Mrs. Vondean McGregor, elementary curriculum director, has received the $7600 grant through the Texas Education Agency to implement a program to improve the instruction in reading for grades K through 6 in both elementary schools.

That doesn't mean, according to Mrs. McGregor, that there's something wrong with the way grade schoolers in Canyon are now being taught to read. "From standardized tests it seems we're really doing a good job for the slower students," she said. "Through the combined effort of the classroom teacher and a special reading program we're doing a good job."

However, Mrs. McGregor said, it appears that the better readers in the elementary grades are not being challenged in the reading area and this is the area where emphasis on improvement in instruction will be placed.

With the funding, Mrs. McGregor said, "we'll be able to supplement what we have for the accelerated child with challenging and high interest material."

Books will be sought which go beyond the sixth grade boundary so children who are reading beyond that level can continue to have challenging material.

"We hope to put the child at the reading level where he functions best regardless of his grade level," Mrs. McGregor said.

The funds will primarily be used for materials and for clerical help and for tests to measure accurately the reading ability of students.

As a part of the one-year program, tests will be administered at the start of the fall term and then the students' progress will be determined with tests administered in the spring term.

Mrs. McGregor stresses that the emphasis on reading next year is not an indication of poor preparation of students.

"On standardized tests our reading levels come in well above the national norms," she said. "But, the norms take into account all types of people and it would not be too unusual to have high levels in Canyon.

"Our program is not deficient. It's not as good as we want it to be. Anytime we're satisfied with our situation, we need to move on and let somebody else take our place."

The move toward more individualized instruction in the classroom will also be tied into the reading program, coupling as it does with the idea that a child learns at an individual rate of speed.

"I don't think we can improve on the way we're teaching reading," Mrs. McGregor said. "We have the finest reading program, but we can learn more about the children and spend time determining what each child needs."

Tying in with the elementary grade level reading program will be implementation of the Right-to-Read Program, a national reading improvement program which requires a local school district to make a commitment to the improvement of reading.

Mrs. McGregor said the district has committed itself to the program, a commitment which is moral rather than legal or otherwise binding, to identify areas of need for improvements.

Testing will be undertaken in all grade levels next year to determine areas of need, she said.

Nevertheless, Mrs. McGregor said she tentatively believes two areas of need will probably be brought out by the testing. One area of need will probably be that one addressed in the grant program in elementary grades — improvement of reading materials for accelerated readers.

Another top priority, she said, is the Right-to-Read Program, a

County to file suits on back taxes

Residents who have not paid their city, and county taxes can expect to see their names either on a civil lawsuit docket or in the local newspaper next week.

The district attorney's office will begin filing lawsuits next week against the first group of several hundred delinquent taxpayers, and the city-school tax office will begin next Thursday publishing the names of residents who did not pay their taxes by the Jan. 31 deadline.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Blair said he will file lawsuits against between 50 and 75 delinquent taxpayers next week to claim back taxes owed Randall County. About the same number of suits will be filed each month until lawsuits have been filed on all delinquent taxpayers, he said.

The names of more than 500 delinquent taxpayers will go into large advertisements in the Canyon News beginning next Thursday, according to City Tax Collector Conway Kuykendall. The listings will also include how much each taxpayer owes and the property for which tax has not been paid.

In each case, that gives taxpayers about a week to clear up their debts with the two tax offices before the two actions are taken.

Blair warned this week that once a lawsuit is filed against a county delinquent taxpayer, the suit will not be dropped.

"We will proceed to judgment and get a general lien on their property," Blair said. "We will push the full legal remedies available. If we file, we won't quit. We'll take it all the way."

Blair said the lawsuits which will be filed on a monthly basis are the final resort for the tax office.

Letters have been mailed by his office to each delinquent taxpayer asking him to pay his back taxes or face the possibility of a lawsuit.

"If they got a letter and they didn't pay, they might as well expect a lawsuit," he said.

The suits to be filed next week by Blair will seek about $2840 in back personal and real property taxes owed the county.

Blair said a similar effort last spring cleared up many back taxes owed as far back as 1937. The bulk of the remaining suits will be seeking taxes owed for the past two to four years.

More than 2000 letters were mailed to delinquent taxpayers recently warning them of the pending possibility of suit.

Last spring, Blair's effort produced about $40,000 in back taxes owed the county.

But, he says it still appears many of the delinquent taxpayers on the roll for suing this year were sued last year for the same thing. "On some of them you can take out the old petition and just xerox it and change the year and the amounts and file it again," he said.

Some delinquent taxpayers are students, he said, and many have moved from the county. Nevertheless, he said, "we will make a concentrated effort to find them."

Canyon's city charter requires the tax collector to run annually a listing in the newspaper of those taxpayers who owe the city money.

Kuykendall said the list includes 562 names and totals $26,462 in back taxes.

About 45 Canyon residents participated Monday morning in annual Memorial Day services at Dreamland Cemetery south of Canyon. VFW post members placed small American flags on the graves of war veterans in the cemetery.

For non-payment after divorces

Child support cases increasing

Local officials won't necessarily attribute it to the state of the national economy, but the number of contempt actions filed in district court here for non-payment of child support is on the rise.

Mrs. LaQuitta Polvadore, district clerk, said more contempt actions are being filed through her office against men who fail to keep up with payments to support their children after divorces are granted.

And, she said divorced mothers seem to have a propensity for filing contempt actions for non-payment around holiday periods indicating the number of contempt cases filed is at least indirectly related to economic need.

Forty-six contempt actions have been filed in district courts here since Jan. 1. That compares with 31 filed during the same period in 1974.

April saw a record number of contempt actions filed for a one-month period with 21 filed in district courts with Randall County. Only 10 were filed in courts in April 1974.

Even though the contempt actions filed are on the increase here, Mrs. Polvadore says there's no way of knowing how many divorced husbands are reneging on their child support payments. She said records are not kept on judgments rendered and her office administrators only a partial number of the whole number of child support payments.

The amount of money administered by her office has doubled since 1970, she said, when the average monthly payments which passed from husband through her office to former wife was about $35,000. Now, the monthly average is about $65,000.

Dist. Judge George Dowlen said a big breakthrough has come only recently in the child-support payment business. He said the Texas Department of Welfare has begun filing contempt actions on behalf of divorced mothers who are on welfare.

This, he said, could account for some of the increase, but he said contempt cases are increasing in general.

A divorced mother, Dowlen said, does have a good remedy in the law if her ex-husband is not paying the child support mandated by the court in the divorce decree.

And, according to Dowlen, that remedy is good whether the ex-husband lives in Texas or in some other state.

"If the husband lives in another state, the mother swears to testimony here and we'll certify that testimony to the other state where the father lives and the courts there will call the husband in," he said.

Most states will participate in this kind of action, Dowlen said.

Dowlen said the only defense in a contempt action is that the ex-husband cannot work to pay the support payments. It is not a defense for lack of payment that the husband has remarried and taken on additional financial obligations.

"We put them in jail very frequently if they're able to work," Dowlen said.

He cited the example of one Amarillo man, whose former wife files a contempt action almost every month to get her child support payment. The man also spends a bit of time every month in the county jail until he comes up with the money.

Board eyes insurance

Palo Duro Hospital Administrator Ray Grimes was instructed Tuesday to investigate the costs of providing a liability insurance policy for South Randall County Hospital Board members to protect them from possible lawsuits arising from hospital-related incidents.

Grimes told the hospital board members they could be sued and held individually liable for actions taken by members of the medical or nursing staff at the hospital.

He said, though, that reports (See BOARD, Page 13)

Governor signs bill legalizing courthouse annex construction

The Randall County courthouse annex now under construction in South Amarillo is now legal.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has signed legislation introduced and carried by State Rep. Bob Simpson to allow Texas counties to build branch courthouse facilities to house several county offices.

County Judge Woody Pond said he expects county commissioners to discuss Monday the passage of a change order to authorize construction of partitions in the building for offices for sheriff's deputies and the justice of the peace.

He said he anticipates the cost for addition of the partitions to be about $30,000.

Currently, the building is designed to contain only a branch tax collection office, but architect's plans have left a large open area in anticipation the legislation would be passed.

The legislation was sought by county commissioners when they learned last fall they were legally prohibited from building an annex to house any offices other than the tax office. They had planned to house the tax office, sheriff's deputies and Justice of the Peace W.W. Hancock in the structure.

However, when they approved plans for the project last fall, they approved only the construction of the tax office. They then asked Rep. Simpson and Sen. Max Sherman to push for passage of a bill to allow Texas counties to house other offices in an annex.

That legislation passed both houses recently and the governor has signed the bill, according to Pond.

The bill allows counties to include in branch office buildings other county functions than just the tax office.

Pond said the $30,000 which will be required to erect partitions and finish offices for deputies and the justice of the peace is available from funds set aside by the county for the construction project.

He said the funds can come through additional federal revenue-sharing monies the county is to receive, or from the sale of the current branch office on Bowie near the Canyon expressway in Amarillo.

Construction on the new annex, which is located at the corner of the expressway and Georgia Street in Amarillo, is expected to be completed late this year or early 1976.

The project was halted for a brief period by a steel workers strike, but work has resumed.

School board to roll up sleeves, tackle planning for future schools

Canyon school board members beginning next week will get down to the business of planning the construction of two new schools and a fall election to determine if local taxpayers will support a multi-million dollar bond issue for the project.

Board members will begin devoting one meeting each month through the summer and fall to planning for the construction of a new high school and a new elementary school. Much of their meeting time will also be spent examining the best approach to a bond issue and general election.

The first meeting for such discussion is set for Tuesday night and the timing is just right to clear the biggest hurdle in planning for new schools.

Texas legislators end their bi-annual session Monday and are expected to have completed major legislation on school finances. House and Senate conferees are meeting this week to reach a compromise on school finance reform.

"That's been the biggest bottleneck all along," Supt. Jerry Jacobs said this week. "We didn't know what our financial picture was going to be. When we get that everything should start falling together."

House and Senate have considered as many as five separate proposals for changing the method of figuring how much state and how much local money will go into local school districts. Local school officials hope another bottleneck in their planning effort will be cleared up early this summer — a decision from the Texas Education Commissioner on whether to allow 176 acres of development land to be annexed from the Canyon school district by the Amarillo school district.

The decision has been pending since Jan. 26, when local school officials travelled to Austin for an appeal hearing on a decision made last November by the Randall County Board of School Trustees. That board voted to allow the annexation of the property.

Local school officials argued before the commissioner that if the county board decision is upheld it will make planning for future schools in the Canyon district hazardous at best.

Texas Education Commission officials have told local school representatives the primary hold-up in the commissioner's decision has been caused by the school finance reform discussion in the legislature.

If and when a school finance reform package is produced and local school officials figure how much funding must come for future school years from CISD taxpayers, and if and when the commissioner of education renders a decision on the annexation issue, planning for the new school construction here should move rapidly, according to Jacobs.

He said the school board meetings — the first Tuesday of each month has been set aside for the future planning — should concentrate primarily on the bond issue.

"We'll be going back through enrollment, space needs, construction costs and explore the avenues open to inform all the people," he said.

Jacobs said it might be possible to call the bond issue election to coincide with the date for the November general election, where Texas voters will go to the polls to vote for or against adoption of a new state Constitution.

"The goal should be to get the maximum number of voters to the polls so we know we got the feeling of the people," he said.

A public opinion survey conducted last summer by graduate students from the University of Texas at Austin indicated a broad sampling of local taxpayers would support a bond issue for construction of more schools.

Enrollment projections will also be at issue during the special meetings by the board, and they've posed some knotty problems in themselves.

Canyon school principals are to present their enrollment projections for next fall during the Tuesday night session next

A number of activities are planned to involve the total community during the July Fourth celebration, according to Jene Stephens, chairman of the Festival Committee for the Randall County Bi-Centennial Committee.

A feature of the summer celebration will be booths and exhibits displaying the crafts and livelihoods of Panhandle forefathers. Clubs and individuals wishing to participate in the exhibits have been asked to contact Mrs. Stephens at 655-2259 for pertinent information.

Traders will also be conducting a sale of various items and reservation space for their wares will be $5 per table with advance reservations required with the chairman.

LeRoy Hutton Improving

County Judge Woody Pond visited County Clerk LeRoy Hutton, who is hospitalized in an Austin hospital, last week and reports Hutton is improved.

Pond was in Austin on county business and spent last Friday morning with the clerk, who was injured in a car accident three weeks ago in Austin.

Pond reported that Hutton is now in a private room, is responsive, can use his limbs and can recognize and converse with visitors.

He said Austin doctors were to administer tests to Hutton this week to determine whether he will be moved to an Amarillo hospital.

County School Board To Meet

Randall County School Board members will meet at 10 a.m. today in the office of County Judge Woody Pond to consider approval of school bus routes for the Canyon School District.

The bus route discussion is the only item of business scheduled for the board, which has been mired in controversy for two years over a decision to detach and annex lands on the northern border of the school district.

School board members are Joe Turpin, R. B. Gist Jr., Charles Purcell, J. D. Barker and Gordon Hendricks.

Legislators from the Panhandle were present at Governor Dolph Briscoe's signing of a resolution making June 18th "TEXAS' Day In Texas." The date marks the opening night of the show's tenth season. The resolution was authored by Representative Simpson of Amarillo and supported unani-

Committee Encourages Bi-Centennial Projects

The Bi-Centennial Steering Committee is designed to encourage and motivate local individuals and clubs to do something worthwhile in the improvement of their community.

"Any project conducted during the two-year bi-centennial observance can be considered a project observing the 200th birthday of our country," related Claire Kuehn, local chairman of the bi-centennial horizons committee.

Presently the steering committee has been awarded $2,500 in funds from the Texas Bicentennial Commission to provide a visitor's section on the grounds of the new Palo Duro Hospital.

"And this means," related Mrs. Kuehn, "that our local residents and clubs will need to raise an equal amount of $2,500 in order to receive this funding."

Presently the steering committee has received better than $400 including a recent $200 donation from the Sue Hite Club, a $30 donation from the Business Women's Club, a $75 donation from the American Association of University Women and a $100 gift from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"It isn't really just a give-us-money type project," she further stated. "We want all to 'do their own thing' whether it is a tree for Operation Facelift at West Texas State University, a fundraising project to aid the committee in acquiring the matching funds, or giving time and service to some citywide effort."

"The Canyon Fine Arts Club is among those working on special projects," she commented, noting that the local club is presently making a wall hanging to decorate the new city library facility when it is opened.

Early this spring a group of volunteers officially organized a Canyon Friends of the Library to involve citizens in giving time, service and funds to benefit the Canyon City Library. The group has already involved themselves by organizing a weekly story hour session for pre-school children, which met with great success. The Library's Friends have also made arrangements through the Canyon Senior Citizens to provide a portable bookshelf for patients at Palo Duro Hospital and arranged with the city librarian to offer books by mail to shut-in residents.

As its part in the bicentennial Panhandle Plains Historical Museum has outlined plans for a film festival this summer, completed the Hall of Texas History as a bi-centennial project and remodeled numerous exhibits at the museum for visitor interest. This fall the museum is planning to sponsor a public showing of fashions from yesteryear.

Another phase of the bi-centennial observance will be the 1975 Summer Festival to feature historic exhibits and activities with a communitywide celebration during the July 4th holidays.

Rain Level Below Normal

The skies have only three days to produce more than an inch of rain to bring Randall County up to the normal precipitation level for May.

U. S. Weather Service figures indicate the normal rainfall during May in this area is about 3.2 inches and so far this month Randall County has received an official 2.18 inches of rainfall.

But, if the skies are interested in weather records, they should also be careful about hail, which Randall County farmers are worried about with a record wheat crop beginning to mature.

So far this spring, no serious hail damage has been reported to The News.

And, in spite of the fact that the rains have not met the average, they've been enough to provide adequate moisture for a wheat crop which should surpass a record 1973 crop in volume if not in per-acre yield.

Record figures for this year indicate the county has received 5.17 inches of rain since Jan. 1.

Rains Tuesday night left .28 inches of moisture in the city. No hail damage was reported.

Funeral Friday For Adkins, 69

Funeral services for Homer Adkins, 69, will be held at Lybrand Chapel at Wills Point, Texas Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. with burial to follow at White Rose Cemetery there.

Mr. Adkins died Monday evening at LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home in Canyon where he had been residing for about two months. He was born August 10, 1905 at Eustace, Texas and previous to moving here was a carpenter at Bloomfield, New Mexico. He was of the Baptist faith.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. S. T. Van Diver of Trail Motel in Canyon; two sisters, Mrs. Maggiebell Isbell of Terrell, Tex. and Mrs. Johnny Newby of Wills Point, Texas; and two grandchildren.

Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home of Canyon.

Governor Proclaims 'Texas' Day

Governor Dolph Briscoe has signed legislation authored by Rep. Bob Simpson of Amarillo that designates June 18th as "TEXAS' Day in Texas."

The resolution honors the musical drama "TEXAS" on the opening of its tenth season and praises the staff's work in tourist development for the state.

"It is a pleasure to sponsor this resolution honoring the hard work and dedication of those who promote this great state," Simpson noted. "Certainly, the show is deserving of the unanimous support it received from the Texas Legislature."

Cited in the measure were: Margaret Harper, winner of the 1974 Governor's Tourist Award for her vision as founder of "TEXAS"; Raymond Raillard, executive director; William and Margaret Moore, the directors; Neil Hess, choreographer and Royal Brantley.

The musical drama has twice been named in the Top Twenty Tourist Attractions in the nation by the National Association of Travel Organizations and has been viewed by more than two-thirds of a million people.

"TEXAS," acclaimed throughout the United States and abroad, was written by Pulitzer Prize-winning author Paul Green and plays against the backdrop of the Palo Duro Canyon. Isaac Van Grove arranged the musical scores.

"TEXAS" is scheduled to run through August 23 and plays nightly except Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

Candiss Shaver Graduates From TWU

In graduation ceremonies held Saturday evening, May 17, at Texas Woman's University in Denton, Texas, Candiss Carpenter Shaver was awarded the only single honor given to the 1975 class of 1062 students.

Dr. John A. Guinn, president of the university, presented the Pauline Bishop Leman award for "Outstanding Artistic Achievement" to Mrs. Shaver, who was cited for her performances and contributions to the community as well as to the university. She received a silver plaque and her name will be engraved on the permanent plaque at the school.

As a student at TWU, Candiss Shaver was an applied voice major, studying under Joan Wall; an active member of the Opera Workshop; recipient of the national Presser Foundation Scholarship Award and the Outstanding Performer Award; an honor graduate, and member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. As a member of the Denton Community Chorus since 1972, she has been a featured soloist on several concerts, and on their recent Bicentennial I celebration, she directed and starred in scenes from an American opera, "The Ballad of Baby Doe." She had performed the roles of Josephine in "H.M.S. Pinafore" and Fiona in "Brigadoon," and was the recipient of their first annual voice scholarship.

Mrs. Shaver is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Carpenter of Canyon, who were present at the ceremonies.

WT Prof Teaches At Okla.

Dr. Horace Bailey, professor and head of biology at West Texas State University, will return for the eighth consecutive summer as visiting professor of parasitology at the University of Oklahoma Biological Station at Lake Texoma.

Bailey will be teaching small classes in the ecology of host-parasite relationships as well as directing and conducting research. The station's zoology and botany courses, lasting from June 2 to July 26, are for undergraduate, graduate and post-doctoral students.

"The unique aspect is that it is a biological station, heavily field-oriented, which is supplemented by laboratory research," Bailey said. "The courses are also scheduled in a unique way that they meet two days a week for all day, and we can go to the field and not have to worry about coming back to meet other classes."

Just two years since its initial appearance in the catalog of West Texas State University, the Music Department's new degree plan in music therapy is the choice of approximately 40 students, including 12 upperclassmen who are degree candidates, according to Dr. George Umberson, chairman.

A trio of music majors who opted to switch to the new plan were awarded degrees in 1975, thereby becoming WT's first three music therapy graduates.

Martha Estes, a registered music therapist (RMT) and graduate of the University of Texas and Teachers' College, Columbia University, has directed the program since its inception. She is, in addition, supervisor of the music therapy program at the Killgore Psychiatric Pavilion.

Mrs. Estes' involvement in music therapy began as the natural meshing of her professional training as musician and teacher, and her search for special techniques to employ in the education of her son Walker, congenitally deaf.

The misfortune of Walker's deafness was not without beneficial consequences, however. In 1959 Walker's grandfather, Lowell Munday, founded the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center to assist in the education of children with related difficulties. And in 1972 Mrs. Estes decided on a professional career in the field of music therapy for herself.

Six months of resident internship, usually completed at an approved neuropsychiatric hospital and always under the supervision of an RMT, is a requirement of certification by the National Association of Music Therapy (NAMT).

Music therapy graduates from WTSU are currently undergoing internships at the Rutland Center at the University of Georgia, and at a facility for mentally ill at Pineville, La.; Mrs. Estes reports.

By reciprocal arrangement through NAMT, Mrs. Estes supervises the internship of students from other colleges and universities who are gaining clinical experience at the Psychiatric Pavilion and other approved institutions in Amarillo.

Through music therapy as an occupational field originated in hospitals, it is moving more and more into the special education of retardates and children with learning disabilities, due to the realization that so much more can be accomplished by music in these areas.

"It has been my experience that retardates will attend longer if there is some kind of musical accompaniment to the instruction," Mrs. Estes stated. "Music is also a suitable reward to employ in motivating these students, and a range of musical rewards are available to the therapist."

Folklore Course To Be Offered

A special course in Folklore will be offered by the English Department during the first summer term June 3 through July 11 at West Texas State University.

The three-hour course will be offered at 9 a.m. daily and will be taught by Dr. John Godfrey, associate professor of English.

At the beginning of the course, students will study the basic ideas, terms and definitions of folklore using a textbook, Dr. Godfrey said.

"We will stress Southwestern regional folklore. The individuals will draw from their own traditions."

No specific authors will be discussed, each individual student will look in his or her background to recall children's games, stories told during childhood and nursery rhymes. Weather lore will also be studied.

"There's enough in a person's own traditions to study and discuss," Dr. Godfrey said.

Registration for the first summer term will be June 2 in the WTSU Student Activities Center. The term consists of six weeks and 80 minutes for each class period. A normal load for an undergraduate is six to seven semester hours and six for a graduate student.

Bailey will also find time to conduct research of his own in the population dynamics of helminth parasites.

Bailey came to West Texas State in 1972 after five years at Colorado State University and three years at the University of Oklahoma. He received Bachelor of Science, Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Oklahoma, and from 1965-67 he had a National Institutes of Health Postdoctoral Fellowship at the University of Massachusetts and Amherst College.

Also employed in special education are a variety of musical testing instruments, which in conjunction with other means are effective both in diagnosis, and in determining developmental level and IQ.

"The way people respond to items on such a test is an aid in distinguishing between brain damage, retardation, emotional disturbance and various other categories. Musical testing can aid in establishing high and low anxiety levels; and work has also been done with auditorially — minded schizophrenics in terms of response to music," Mrs. Estes explained.

Though the expansion of music therapy in the area of special education is rapid, music therapists continue to be active in the treatment of psychiatric patients, coordinating their efforts with those of the medical staff and other special therapists.

"If one applied any special therapeutic philosophy to this field, it would be behaviorism; specifically, the scientific application of music to influence changes in behavior," Mrs. Estes explained. "The goal is to help the emotionally disturbed or handicapped person toward his best possible adjustment to society."

Music therapy is one of the most rapidly growing studies in the department, and numerous inquiries about the degree plan are coming in from all over the country," Umberson states. "It is an expanding career field, with job opportunities constantly being created as the program demonstrates its value."

Gene Howe School Students Take Awards

By KAROLYN FARMER
AWARDS ASSEMBLIES
WERE held Friday, May 23 at Gene Howe. The assembly for Grades K through 3 took place first. Track awards were given to the winners of the various events in each room by Mr. Rickey Smith and Mrs. Mary Knight.

Mrs. Margie Phillips presented a trophy to each of the kindergarten classes for being good music students. Music awards were also given to Nanette Burleson for her outstanding performance in the 1st Grade Play and to Gary Glenn for the outstanding performance in the 3rd Grade Play. The Outstanding Music Award for Grades 1 through 3 went to Lenna Pryor.

During the awards assembly for Grades 4, 5 and 6, Mrs. Marion Shoemaker presented certificates to all the students who had participated in the school Spelling Bee. She also presented a beautiful trophy to Debra Drost who placed first in the Randall County Junior Spelling Bee.

Mr. J. W. King presented the Band Award to Randy Whipple.

Outstanding performance in the 6th Grade Play was awarded to Shelley Shenk by Mrs. Phillips.

Kelli Campbell was the recipient of the Outstanding Music Award. Mrs. Phillips also presented awards to David Bromley, Stan Ely, Steve Sellers, and Melanie Slaughter for their outstanding work in music this year.

Elizabeth Wilson presented certificates of appreciation to the following student workers in the library: Cathy Call, Roger Robertson, Bill Cox, Michele Whitehead, Matt Brown, Chris Hansen, Mekala Fletcher, Randy Whipple, Dian Fowler, Pam Tip-ton, Michael Coffelt, Alan Tomes, Dena Harp, Princess Rogers, DeAnna Henwood, Barbara Noel, Theresa Stone, Stan Ely, Al Conlan, Brenda Carney and Shannon Edwards.

Ribbons were given to all the winners of each grade in the school track meet by Mr. Rickey Smith and Mrs. Mary Knight.

Mr. Lawless gave special recognition to the Gene Howe PTA for providing all the ribbons and medals that were given to the students.

ROY AND SHERRIE Cates and family have had an exciting and busy week. Their son Novie and his fiancée, Kathy Lewis, arrived in the early morning hours on Sunday, May 18, and stayed until the following Friday. Novie is stationed at Moffitt Field in California and has bought a home in Kathy's home city of San Jose.

Kathy and Novie will be married July 12 and all the Cates clan are planning to make the trip to California to attend.

Also adding to the crowd at the Cates home have been son Ronnie, who is a student at Baylor, and Trisha Shands of Houston. Ronnie will be working in Houston this summer before returning to school.

A reception and shower for Novie Cates and Kathy Lewis was held Sunday, May 25, in the home of Ada Crager in Canyon. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Crager, Sarah Edwards, Pat Seth, Winona White, Joan Fowlkes and Wilma Johnson. Sherrie's sister, Mrs. Ken (Donna) Heitmiller, and her family drove up from West, Texas (near Waco) to join in the festivities.

Dot Ford, Lynn Gill and Ellen Watson of Gene Howe went to Arlington, Texas last week to observe the Diagnostic Centers in the schools there. Davida Emanuel of Rex Reeves School observed the early childhood programs in the Euleus-Hurst and Ennis schools.

KENNY NAGUNST CELEBRATED his 12th birthday Monday, May 26. Family and friends gathered for what was supposed to be a surprise party, except that one of Kenny's friends had already let him in on the surprise.

GENE HOWE NIGHT at Wonderland Park was a tremendous success. Not only is this special evening a great chance for our kids and parents to have fun and visit with each other, but it is also one of the chief means of raising money for our school.

Advance ticket sales at the school totaled $1,836. Gene Howe will get 40% of that amount, or close to $735. Also our school will receive 40% of all gate sales at the park on the evening of May 26, and I'll report that amount to you in next week's column.

Certainly Gene Howe School and the PTA appreciate all the parents who paid for the tickets and brought their families and friends to the park on our particular evening.

THE APOLOGY FOR the Week goes to Mrs. Elaine Trew and her 2nd grade class, who I tried to put in the 3rd grade in last week's column.

Of course, I knew better, but newspaper deadlines seem to have a way of distorting my mind. (Oh, well, a flimsy excuse is better than none, isn't it?)

MRS. NYNVIA MILLS' 3rd grade class is in the center spotlight for this week. As I came into the room the children were just finishing their Show and Tell time.

Dusty Dove showed the class three silver dollars which he had just received for a birthday present. Dusty and his twin sister Debbie celebrated their 10th birthdays on May the 25th with a swimming party.

Following Show and Tell the class worked on their spelling assignments. Spelling in Mrs. Mills' room, as well as in the other rooms at Gene Howe, is done on an individualized basis.

Each child works on his spelling with a partner and the two children test each other on their daily work. Troy Cates told me that he got a lot more out of this type of spelling program and also that he had advanced five levels in spelling this year.

Ramona Wilson recently celebrated her birthday on May 4 and Mike Woods will have a birthday on May 28. Several members of the class have summer birthdays and will be honored this week before school is out: Troy Cates on August 12, Diane Covalt on June 10; Valerie Davis on June 29; Jay Mendez on June 24; Amy Watkins on July 10; and Michelle Hansen on August 14.

The calendar in the room for the month of May shows a boy sitting on a pier fishing and a numbered fish represents each day of the month.

After their spelling period I followed the boys and girls, along with the other 3rd grade classes, to Margie Phillips' room for their music time. As they filed into the room a song was playing on the record player and the children joined in as they took their seats.

Margie called Dusty and Debbie Dove to the front of the room and she and the boys and girls sang a special birthday song to them. Then Margie gave each of them a choice of either "smacks" or "whacks" for their birthdays. Dusty chose "whacks" and received 10 "pseudo-whacks" from Margie with a kiss to grow on. Debbie got 10 kisses with one to grow on.

As Margie passed out the song books, the children all joined in singing to a popular recording of "Locomotion." Several of the children picked their favorite songs from the book to sing and they also worked off some of their energy with some vigorous action songs.

It certainly doesn't take long to see why Margie is such a favorite with all the kids at Gene Howe.

Back in Mrs. Mills' room, the children were given their English and math assignments. Mrs. Mills read them some limericks and they made up several together.

The writing assignment for the day was to make up three limericks of their own. Dawn Brennan wrote: "At the candy store, I had some fun glaze, and the dentist found a cavity, And I knew what for."

Greg Coronado's limerick was: "There was a small boy named Kevin, Who wanted to go to heaven; But when he got there he said, Gee, I'm only eleven."

Mrs. Nynvia Mills is a "super-excellent" teacher and unfortunately for Gene Howe she won't be with us next year. Her husband, Ron, who has been head football coach at Canyon High School, has accepted a coaching position at Bay City High School.

Ron, Sr. and son Ron, Jr. have been living in Bay City since February so that they could get in on spring football at that school. Ron, Jr. will be a senior in high school this next year.

Mrs. Mills and their other son Todd, who will be in the 8th grade next year, will be moving this week end to their cabin at Lake Meredith and then will move to Bay City the middle of June.

Nynvia Mills has taught 3rd grade classes at Gene Howe for four years. She previously taught at Panhandle for four years. She graduated with a B.S. Degree in Elementary Education from West Texas State University and has 18 hours toward her Master's Degree.

She tells me that she really hates to leave Gene Howe and has really loved working with Mr. Lawless and our other great teachers. She also put in a good word for the cooperative spirit of all the parents and the PTA organization at our school.

Mrs. Mills will be teaching 3rd grade this coming year at Roberts Elementary School in Bay City.

We're all definitely going to miss Mrs. Mills and wish her and her family loads of luck and love in their new home.

CONGRATULATIONS TO REBECCA Boyce and Michelle Marrs, who are both in Mrs. Pat Stevens' 2nd grade class. Rebecca placed first in the state in the Texas Optometrists' poster contest and won a $50 prize. Michelle placed second in the district contest.

KIM HOWARD, WHO is in Mrs. Smith's 5th grade room, was named All-Around Youth in the Fourth Annual Coulter Road 4-H Club Horse Show held last Saturday. Andrea Reagan, who is also in Mrs. Smith's room, won the Junior Pole Bending event and placed 3rd in the Junior Barrel Racing. Kristy White, a 5th grader in Mrs. Taylor's room, placed first in the Junior Trail event.

GAY COCHRAN, OUR reading teacher, has been in St. Anthony's Hospital this past week and is now home recuperating from surgery.

SHEILA HICKS WAS one of the swimmers who participated in the English Channel Swim on May 23 at the Maverick Club in Amarillo. The swim meet was held to raise money for the Heart Association.

John Hicks will swim this Saturday in the "C" Meet at the Maverick Club.

CLAUDIA AND ONEAL Call and daughter Cathy joined Tonya and Ronnie Holt and children Pam and Ryan at Greenbelt Lake last week end for some fun and fishing.

THE A&S STEEL Building baseball team coached by Kyle Farmer played their second game this past Saturday. Unfortunately the team from Avondale School won by a score of 10 to 8, but they really played hard

"SO SEND I YOU" is the title for a multi-media concert to be presented by Bob Dorchester, tenor and trumpeter, and Jodi Dorchester, alto, at the Grace Baptist Church of Canyon on Saturday evening, May 31, at 7 p.m. Local residents are invited to attend the special service by Rev. Richard Korsmo, pastor. Interwoven in the musical program will be narrated prayers, emphasis slides, and special lighting.

Retired Teacher Dies

An era in Panhandle education ended Sunday with the death here of Mrs. T. W. Collins who endeared herself to generations of Canyon school children.

Friends often said Mrs. Collins held "Heaven in her hands" as a first grade teacher in the Canyon system.

She retired 26 years ago and had lived in Canyon 50 years at the time of her death.

Her interest in the young never wavered, even in her retirement. Only last week the first Allie Collins scholarship award was presented to a Canyon High School senior, Dana Tow, in her honor.

A daughter said the award will be made annually as a memorial. Mrs. Collins was born Allie Smith near St. Joe. She was the fourth of five children. Her parents moved to the Indian Territory near the present site of Ardmore.

Her mother established a school in the family's ranch home.

The father died when Mrs. Collins was 6 years old and she was left orphan at the age of 14 with the death of her mother.

She grew up in the home of an uncle, Albert Smith, her father's brother who had married her mother's sister.

She was married in 1909 to Tom W. Collins at Ringgold, Texas. They were the parents of four children. He died in 1922 and Mrs. Collins moved to Canyon to enroll in college and earn a teaching certificate.

Her first teaching job was at Kress. Soon she was hired by the Canyon system and taught here

CHS Graduate Has Momento

Wayne King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. King, Jr., has received a congratulatory card postmarked Washington, D.C. with a return address of The White House for a memento of his high school graduation this year.

The message of congratulations was signed by Betty Ford and Gerald R. Ford, President of the United States.

McCoys Have Baby Boy

Mr. and Mrs. David McCoy of 1107 6th Avenue, Canyon announce the May 25 birth of a son, Michel David, who weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces and measured 19 inches on arrival at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The infant's father is employed with the maintenance department at West Texas State University. Maternal grandparents are Jan Ann Dwyer of Canyon and Carl Dwyer of Pampa. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Panne of Canyon.

and have definite plans to win the next game.

One of the really great things about the game though was the fact that the boys receive such great support from their families. There are fourteen boys on the team and there were over 35 fans from Gene Howe who came to cheer for our team.

MRS. MELBA PRATHER, the mother of Sarah Edwards, has been visiting her daughter and family. Mrs. Prather lives in Lubbock. Sarah says that her mother was particularly amazed by the Edwards family's hectic schedule during her visit here. (Besides Wonderland Park Day, the Edwards also participated in the famous "Euclid Street" Garage Sale, which I understand was a big success.)

TROYCE MULHERIN HAS been helping out in Mrs. Gloria Taylor's room this week. The class has a "BIG" art project going and have been making flower pots (and/or potato chip bowls, cookie bowls, etc.)

I only visited the room to observe and wound up rolling up sleeves and unbuttoning aprons — since I was the only one in the room with clean hands.

WE SAW a lot of familiar faces and heard some really beautiful music at the Canyon Junior High School Choir Program this past Thursday. Mr. Doug McCause and all the kids who sang in the program really have every right to be proud of themselves.

We've been going to choir programs at the school for several years and this one was the best so far.

You probably already know that the 9th grade choir won the Outstanding Choir Award at contest this year, and the other choirs also won many awards. It's impossible not to be proud when our young people work so hard and accomplish such great things.

IF ANY OF you parents are still interested in enrolling your child in summer school at Gene Howe, please contact Mr. Lawless at the school office before June 2.

IN CASE YOUR child bought tickets to the Summer Movie Series at the Fox Twin Theatre and you have misplaced the movie schedule, I've been asked to provide another schedule for reference:

June 2-3-4-5 — "Chitty, Chitty, Bang, Bang"

June 9-10-11-12 — "Fantastic Voyage"

June 16-17-18-19 — "Reluctant Astronaut"

June 23-24-25-26 — "Kidnapped"

June 30-July 1-2-3 — "Smoky"

July 7-8-9-10 — "The Little Ark"

July 14-15-16-17 — "King Kong Escapes"

July 21-22-23-24 — "All Hands on Deck"

July 28-29-30-31 — "A Challenge For Robin Hood"

Aug. 4-5-6-7 — "Viva Max"

DON'T FORGET THAT school will be dismissed at 2:30 on both Thursday, May 29 and Friday, May 30.

Wedding Anniversary Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Conatser celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last week with many of their friends and relatives who began arriving on Thursday, May 22. By Friday evening several nieces and nephews were in town, and approximately 20 relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cal C. Stephens for supper and an evening of visiting.

At noon Saturday, the Conatsers were guests of honor at a family dinner at the Yum Yum Tree Restaurant. About 30 of their children and grandchildren were in attendance.

Following the luncheon a reception was held for them at the Girl Scout House with approximately 200 guests attending.

The former Zulette Roberts and Charles Conatser met at a party at Dalhart where they drew ends of a string spider web which led them to each other and made them partners for the evening.

They were married on May 23, 1925, at Dalhart in a car outside the minister's house with her parents in the back seat as witnesses. They lived first at Dalhart and then at Dumas until 1930 when they moved to a place near Cuba, N.M., which became their home upon completion of the homestead requirements. Their home there was a log cabin which relatives and friends helped them erect.

The Conatsers returned to Texas in 1933 to educate their children in Texas schools moving first to Pringle and then in 1936 to Canyon where Charlie has since engaged in farming and livestock production.

To the couple were born four children, Catherine Luster of Wildorado, Louise Russell of Canyon, Jack of Dallas, and Charles Wiley of Lubbock. There are 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

At the reception each of the three rooms of the Girl Scout House was decorated to bring to mind an era of their lives. Guests were registered and given name tags and then greeted by Susie and Charlie in a room representing the present. A family tree with pictures of the honorees and all their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren with spouses was on display as were gifts which the couple received. Punch was available from a champagne fountain.

A second room brought memories of days past. A 2 ft. by 3 ft. picture of the couple under a windmill during courtship days was a center of interest. A variety of snacks was available to guests as they viewed antique displays and other pictures of Charlie and Susie through the years. Guests were encouraged to share in writing some tale about one or both of the honorees. These stories were displayed on the walls and will be preserved in a scrapbook for the couple.

A caricature picture in the third room carried the theme of the celebration, "The Best Is Yet To Be." Here guests enjoyed coffee or tea and cake. They were invited to leave greeting cards in an old mailbox, and many made wishes at a wishing well in the corner of the room.

Out-of-state guests who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanders of Costa Mesa, Calif.; Mrs. Orval Alley of South Beach, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. David Conatser and children of Eufaula, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins and children of San Jon, N.M.; Mrs. J.M. Ruthart of Ordway, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. K.E. Bishop of Burlington, Colo.; Mrs. Loyd Benesch and children of Pueblo, Colo.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C.V. Conatser of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roberts and children of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hooper of Girard, Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Bowen of Longview, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simmons of Springtown, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Austin of Spur, Jack Simmons of

Umbarger News

By REBA RAEF

THE UMBARGER COMMUNITY was pretty lucky during the high winds of last week.

The roof on the garage of the T.J. Tucker's was blown off and scattered around the yard. Mrs. Tucker said that a piece of the roof, with a nail in it, was driven into a post just like it had been hammered in place. She is most grateful that there was not any more damage than that. The Tuckers live South of Umbarger on the Buffalo Lake road about a mile.

THE JOE WIECK'S entertained a grandson, little Joe Wieck, over the Memorial weekend. His parents, the Steve Wiecks took a brief holiday.

KENNETH ARTHO, ONE of our sons-in-law, stopped in Monday and had lunch with us. We got caught up on some visiting.

Two of the brothers, Clifford and Nathan, are visiting the John Wieck's for a week or so. Congratulations to the proud parents, also.

WE HAD A guest from Madrid, Spain last Monday. He is Enrique Sierra and is here on a business trip. He is being shown around the country by Lewie, Jr.

Mr. Sierra is dealing with the Cabot Corporation for some of their products and since he speaks no English and Lewie speaks Spanish fluently, Lewie was asked by Cabot, to escort Mr. Sierra and act as his interpreter. Lewie is employed by Cabot.

TOM AND KATHY Callarman and children stopped by one night last week and brought us a big box of grapefruit off of the trees in Andy's yard in Glendale, Ariz.

The Callarman's will spend the summer here, then go to Indiana, where Tom will attend Purdue University. The fruit is very good.

Swimming Pool Opens At Siesta

By DORIS MCKEE
GREETINGS FROM HERE
at Siesta. Hope everyone had a nice and safe Memorial Day.

THE SWIMMING POOL opened here in the park on Saturday May 24th. The kids really enjoyed it over the week end, and of course there were lots of adults enjoying also.

WONDER HOW MANY saw the moon eclipse on Saturday night! It started about 11:00 p.m.

The last time I looked at it, the moon was better than three fourths covered, but by then I was so sleepy, I couldn't watch any longer.

RAYLENE QUALLS WAS in a collision with another car last week on Plains Blvd. and all were very lucky.

Jamie was thrown into the floor, but not hurt, Guy got several scratches, but she and Paul Jr. came out untouched.

These things seem to happen ever so often no matter how careful a person is.

JANIE SAFUENTIS IS sporting a new blue car around. She went to Fort Stockton over the week end.

THE FLOYD ROBERTSON'S got moved last week. We hope they will be happy in Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Martin and family bought Robertson's mobile home. We wish to welcome them to the park.

EARL, BETTY AND Johnnie Hart took their new boat to Lake Meredith over the week end. They had a real nice time, but were very tired and blistered.

TALKED TO WANDA Coffelt Monday and she said that her family had a real nice week end. She, Thomas, Carl, Connie, Janet and Michael went to Scott City and Mearthal, Kansas.

They attended the Eder family reunion, which is the family on Wanda's Dad's side. There was around 100 people or more at the reunion. The Coffelt family also stopped in Garden City, Kansas and toured the zoo.

WE LOST A couple more families, one last week and one this week. Jimmy and Jackie Judkins and son moved from 222 La Fiesta. They are going to Spring Lake, Texas, I believe.

And Kenneth and Linda Shaffer and sons moved from 203 La Fiesta. They moved onto a farm north of Shamrock, Texas. We wish both families the best of luck.

LINDA SHAFFER HELD her last Cub Scout meeting on Thursday afternoon last week. She had seven boys present. Richard, McCarter, Monty Prichett, Mark Shaffer, Randy Jones, Jimmy Scott, Jeryl Flemings and Curt Smith.

They held their rocket derby. Only four boys entered rockets. They were Richard, Monty, Mark and Randy. 1st place went to Monty and Mark & Randy tied for 2nd. Each winner received a plaque.

The cub's will probably disband, since there isn't a leader now. If anyone is interested, the boys would appreciate it. Please call me.

FELTON, FAYE, RENE, Diana and Suzie Conner went to Elk City, Okla. over the week end to visit Felton's uncle and family.

the Bill Conner's. Faye said they had a very nice trip.

PAUL, RAYLENE, PAUL JR., Guy and Jamie went to Friona to Paul's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Dane Qualls.

Also there were both Paul's brothers, Jerry Dane of Fort Worth and Jackie of Friona. Raylene said they had a real nice visit and lots of barbecue.

SEEMS THERE WAS a real wild ping pong game going on Sunday night in the recreation building.

The Kenneth Shaffers, the James Jones and the Roscoe Shipley's were really having a good time.

ON SATURDAY AFTER-NOON Albert, Katie, David and Kathy Rinne were among a nice size group of people who attended a picnic at Lake Tanglewood.

The picnic was in recognition of the 6th grade girls, Kids Inc. track team, who won first place this year.

Albert was the assistant coach and he along with the coach were presented trophies by the girls. All had a good time.

When the Rinne's returned home, they found company waiting. Albert's folks, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rinne and Albert's sister, Patricia, and husband, David Koslan, all of Wilson, Texas came for the week end. Early Sunday morning Albert, his Dad and David took the boat over to Meredith. They fished a while, but were back home around noon. Didn't catch many.

On Monday, Albert and Katie worked hard at finishing their patio. They are pouring it themselves and I might add, it looks very nice.

MARTY HOFFMAN AND Ronnie McCarter went on an outing to Palo Duro Canyon with South Georgia Baptist Church Saturday. Tod McKee joined the group after they got to Palo Duro, where all of them had a real good time, climbing, hiking and horse-back riding.

CALLED EUNICE RINEHART to see what was going on around her place. She and Barney were entertaining Gladys (Eunice's sister) and Guinn Davenport of Vernon, Texas as their week end guest.

On Saturday Bob and Jo Rinehart, also Charlotte and Tom McWilliams came out for a visit.

Then Sunday Charlotte and Tom had everyone over to their home for lunch.

Eunice said they had a nice visit, and lunch all topped off with homemade ice cream.

SEEMS ROSCOE SHIPLEY is on a weeks vacation. He, Sharon and Brent were in Plainview Thursday, Friday and Saturday visiting his folks, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shipley, and Sharon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hancock.

On Tuesday May 27th, young Brent, celebrated his first birthday. Sharon said they were getting him a swing set. Happy Birthday, Brent.

MY HUSBAND ROYCE, took a few days off this week end. His folks Mr. and Mrs. V. M. McKee of Lubbock came up Friday.

Saturday we took a picnic and went to Palo Duro Canyon. It was a real nice outing and they seemed to really enjoy it.

Saturday night we put them on a bus to Fort Worth to visit (Royce's brother) Billy and Dot McKee.

OH YES, WHILE we were in Palo Duro Canyon Saturday, I just happened to run into an ex-park resident. Janie Johnson and son, Riley, and grandson, Tony, were there on a camp out with her folks.

Janie and Jim have been in Muleshoe, Texas for the past three months. She said they would be moving to Utah soon after school is out. Jim has been working in Utah for several weeks already.

It was so nice to see and visit with Janie.

I also learned that Janie's daughter Lori and her husband Willie, who are also ex-park residents have enriched Janie by one more grandchild. They now live in Idaho and Janie hasn't gotten to see the new little one yet.

MONDAY NIGHT WAS Gene Howe night at Wonderland Park and myself, along with quite a few other mothers and fathers from the park took our children out for a night of fun.

THIS IS THE last week of school and I'd like to say to all the Kids, enjoy your summer vacation and be careful in all you do.

MUST SIGN OFF for this week, but be sure to keep on reading.

Thought for this week, "Enrich your life daily, by enriching someone else's first."

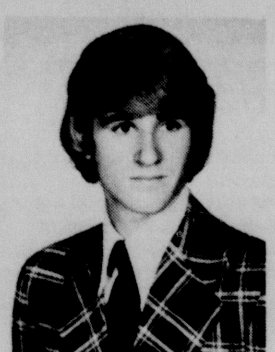

See ya.

Buffaloes Pick Up Points On Weight

The sprints were supposed to be West Texas State's best events in the 65th Missouri Valley Conference track and field championships last week in Wichita, but it was in the weight events where Coach Bob Kitchens' Buffaloes picked up a bunch of points.

West Texas State scored 65 points to place fourth in the Valley, but 31 of those points came in the shot put, javelin, and discus. This is where Marvin Self comes in.

The versatile junior from Silverton was WT's high point man in the meet, winning the discus, placing third in the shot, and finishing fourth in the javelin. That's a total of 20 points for 5-10, 245-pounder.

"Marvin really competed well for us," Kitchens understated. "That's a big chunk of our point total. He really did a good job when we needed it."

Self hurled the discus 167.8 for his season's best mark for the Valley title. West Texas State's only individual championship. His 177-10 throw in the javelin was also his season's best, and the put of 51-3 in the shot was good for third behind teammate Charlie Haddad (55-1 3/4).

Overall, it was a good year for the young Buffs. "I thought the season as a whole went pretty good," Kitchens said. "The young kids came through for us in most instances and did a good job."

"I was kind of frustrated at the end of the season because of a couple of things that happened to us. I felt like we could have run better in the sprint relay than we did, and while Joe (Tiony) was at the point where he could run well, he got in the right conditions to run as good a race as he could."

First the sprint relay. The Buffs had four of the finest sprinters in the league, but missed out on any points in the shorter relay when the first exchange was missed in the league meet. It was a young bunch with three freshmen (Curtis Lindley, Karl Wright, and Robert Dennis) along with one sophomore (Alvis Wright).

Tiony at least scored well in the league meet. The Kenyan freshman was third in the mile (4:15.6), but faded to fourth in the 880 (1:55.1). Both times were off his season bests by considerable margins.

Kent Builds Tennis Dynasty

David Kent won't come out and admit it, but West Texas State's super successful tennis coach has built a dynasty in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Last week in Tulsa, the Buffs won their third straight Valley title in what had started out to be a rebuilding year. Kent's young team swept through eight MVC opponents by winning 64 of 72 matches. In the process, West Texas State players won four of the six singles titles and two of the three doubles crowns.

What makes West Texas State's domination of the 1975 MVC meet into a dynasty is the fact that all seven players (one junior, four sophomores, and two freshmen) will be back for the 1976 tournament.

"We've got some quality players who have shown that they can play under pressure, and I think they'll be much better next year," Kent says.

Add to the experience the fact that Kent recruited a pair of high school standouts in San Angelo's Joe Dan McBeth and Lubbock's Doug Davis, and the prediction is complete. "We're bringing in two of the best recruits that we've ever had," Kent agrees.

Doug Davis, one half of Lubbock Coronado's state Class AAAA doubles championship team, has signed a national letter of intent to attend West Texas State University on a tennis scholarship. Buffalo Coach David Kent announced Saturday (May 17).

Davis teamed with Charles Key to win 31 of 32 doubles matches this year, and became the first West Texas team to win the Class AAAA doubles title.

"Doug has got to be one of the top recruits in Texas," Kent said in making the announcement. "He's got everything he needs to be a great college player: speed, size, dedication, and he's a winner."

It's hard to dispute that last statement. In three years of high school competition for Coach Jim Carter, Davis won 196 singles and doubles matches against only 28 losses (100-18 in singles, 96-10 in doubles). He was the District 4-AAAA singles champ as a sophomore, and he teamed with Key for the league doubles titles as a junior and senior.

Davis was a regional semifinalist in singles as a sophomore and he and Key reached the state semifinals before bowing out last year.

This year, he also won 55 singles matches against only four losses. In three years, he reached the finals of 32 tournaments and won 27.

Add to that Highway 80 Tour titles at Odessa, Andrews, and Lubbock, and it's easy to see why Carter calls him "the best player I've ever had."

"He's probably the best prospect from this area since Avery Rush," Kent said, referring to the Amarillo star who played as the University of Texas' number one player. "He's one of the best finds of the year."

Davis is the second top high school player who has announced his intention to attend West Texas State. Joe Dan McBeth, the number one player for San Angelo Central's perennial power, signed a national letter earlier this month.

Meanwhile, Kent has taken his current team to the Missouri Valley Conference championships that started Tuesday in Tulsa. The Buffs have won the past two MVC titles, and three of the four since the university has been a member of the Valley.

Linkster Places Third

Tommy Smith's third place finish was the high point of West Texas State's competition in the Missouri Valley Conference golf championships last week in Wichita, Kans.

Smith led the field with a four-under par 67 following the first 18-holes, then succumbed to the charging Ron Streck of Tulsa for medalist honors. Streck shot rounds of 69 and 68 during Friday's action for a 208 total, while Smith came in at 75-76 for 213, just two strokes behind North Texas State's Doug Higgins.

But while Smith was playing his best on the opening round, the rest of the Buffs were not. Randall Burton limped home with a 79 with an eight on the 18th hole. Allen Johnson finished with an 80, Junior Salinas with an 83, and John Hood with a 90. "That first round hurt us bad," veteran coach Vern Farquhar said. "We had a couple of boys that shot poorly and that just killed us."

The 309 total put the Buffs in eighth place after the opening round, and Friday rounds of 305 and 300 moved Farquhar's team to sixth in the final listing.

While Smith fell back in the back, Hood led the Buffs through the final 36 holes in style. He made up for his opening 90 by posting scores of 75 and 71 during Friday's 36 holes.

Hood's performance almost duplicated his showing in the 1974 Valley meet in Denton. "He shot an 80 in the first round," Farquhar remembers, "and the next two rounds he played up to par. I believe he shot a 70 on the last 18."

"What we ought to do is make him play 36 on Wednesday and get those bad rounds out of the way."

Smith, a junior from Amarillo, and Johnson, an Amarillo sophomore, are the only two members of WT's Valley unit that will return for the 1976 season. Burton, Hood, and Salinas, all seniors were playing in their fourth straight MVC meet.

TEXAS TALK

By Tom Lytle

Agriculture has moved to New York. Right into Wall Street. Stock exchange members, investment counselors and stock brokers are talking about wheat. That's right, not commodity brokers but stock brokers. Specific nature of this conversation is taking the form of advice to their favorite investors. Advice about watching the big seed companies to see which of them breaks through with a super-hybrid wheat. So far the 200 bushel per acre hybrid has proved elusive for developers but it's difficult now to review a current agri-business corporate report without reading of the possibilities.

Many of the Green Revolution's observers say the 200 bushel per acre target is still out of sight and probably cannot be developed until interim hybrid varieties are completed and stabilized. Implications are nearly staggering since potential production for the United States alone could approach nine billion bushels.

Youth Falls In Palo Duro

A Denver youth remains in serious condition in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo following a fall suffered Sunday at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

David Gonzales fell approximately thirty feet in the accident just south of Devil's Slide in the park.

The Canyon Fire Department Rescue Squad received word of the fall at 7:30 p.m.

By RICK WILCOX
Now that warm weather is here, it's time to think about mulching your garden. In simplest terms, "mulching" means to cover your soil with a blanket of some material which will shade it from the sun and keep it from baking and drying. The number of things you can use for mulch is almost endless, but here are a few of the more common with the strengths and weaknesses of each.

(1) Grass clippings: The clippings from your and your neighbor's lawn make excellent mulch. They're readily available, make an attractive cover, decompose into the soil quite easily and are rich in many plant nutrients, especially nitrogen. Don't apply too thick a layer at any one time. They can spoil and smell. Spread each layer no more than about 2 inches deep and build up gradually.

(2) Bark: This is an especially attractive mulch around trees, shrubs and other permanent plantings. Bark breaks down slowly so adds little to the soil, but it holds moisture well and needs little attention or replenishment.

(3) Rocks and gravel: Excellent moisture holders, rocks and gravel add nearly nothing to the soil. Like bark, they're attractive and popular around permanent plantings. Definitely not recommended for vegetables.

(4) Peat moss: Peat can be used where protected from direct wind and rain, but has several disadvantages. It blows easily, splashes up on the plants when rained on, and adds nothing to the soil except humus. It is an acid mulch, however, and for that reason would be good on blueberries and other acid-loving plants.

(5) Straw and spoiled hay: The acknowledged "Mistress of Mulch" is Ruth Stout of Connecticut, a charming lady about 90 years old. I heartily recommend every garden book or article she ever wrote. Even if you disagree with her you'll be charmed by her outlook and writing style. Her theme is to use a deep straw or hay mulch (at least 6 inches) on everything. It works, and the easy availability of hay and straw in our area make the system a good one for the Panhandle. Hay and straw add much to the soil, but at a slower rate than grass and therefore take less replenishment.

(6) Cotton trash: The Courthouse roses in Canyon are mulched with this. It adds much to the earth while slowly decomposing and looks very attractive, especially when wet. Excellent for permanent plantings.

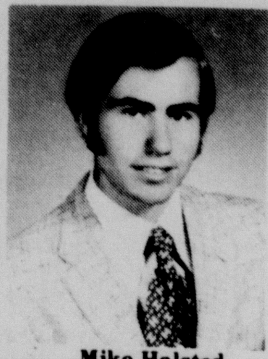

(7) Leaves: These are best when crushed. When whole, they have a bad tendency to mat down and repel water. Crushed and mixed with grass clippings, however, they are excellent. They often include minerals and nutrients not found in grass clippings from the same locale, since the trees they came from often bring up such treasures from deep below the surface.

In recent years, the "plastic society" has invaded the field of organic gardening in the form of black plastic sheets. Some gardeners use this black plastic to carpet their gardens. While plastic certainly keeps the vegetables off the ground, it has major drawbacks. For one thing, it's expensive. It also obviously adds nothing to the soil, so the plants growing through it quickly wear out their welcome in the earth below. It does not permit easy passage of rain as do organic mulches. And some research has indicated that the sun on black plastic causes the discharge of poisonous gas. Air pollution is a big enough problem without us home gardeners contributing to it. Forget the black plastic.

Grab some hay or grass clippings and toss them around your plants. I think you'll be pleased with the results. Until next time.

Schools . . .

week. But, Jacobs said for the purpose of the future planning, enrollment projections will be updated periodically through the planning process.

Enrollment figures examined this spring indicate the greatest need for new facilities lies in a high school and an elementary school, Jacobs said.

Board members have discussed constructing the high school on a campus near the current Gene Howe School in the north part of the district. They have made no such comment about the possible location of a new elementary school.

The figures, based on enrollment trends, tend to indicate that new students moving into the school district fall in the age groups for requiring additional classroom space for the upper elementary grades.

However, a new trend has developed just this spring which has Jacobs in a quandary.

Larger than anticipated numbers of kindergarten students have indicated they will attend school here next year. Jacobs said with the number of students already confirmed for the fall term, it will be necessary to add a section of kindergarten at Rex Reeves Elementary School and two sections at Gene Howe.

While school board members and administration have virtually agreed on the probability that a new high school and new elementary school will be needed for the future, architects have not yet finished plans for either.

Initial physical plant planning began last spring.

Jacobs said preliminary plans are almost completed on a new elementary school and rough plans have been completed for a high school for review by school officials.

School board members begin their concentrated meeting efforts on future school needs this summer after more than a year of discussion about how to solve the overcrowding problems experienced on virtually every campus in the school system now.

For the fall term, Gene Howe School will have nearly half a dozen portable classrooms to handle an overflow crowd. Canyon Junior High will have a portable barracks building for two additional classrooms. Canyon High School will have the use of two classrooms to be vacated when the school district administrative offices move to the old Neblett Hospital building, recently purchased and now undergoing remodeling for that purpose.

Board . . .

from local insurance agents indicate that kind of liability insurance is hard to come by.

"The board can be sued for what a doctor does," Grimes told the board members.

He said since the board approves the medical staff of the hospital, they can be held liable for actions he takes, according to a federal court ruling.

Because the board is responsible for seeing the credentials of a doctor and because they must assess those medical practices which he is capable of performing, their liability extends to his practice of medicine in the hospital, Grimes said.

The discussion of board liability for a physician's practice also turned into a discussion of malpractice insurance during the Tuesday meeting.

Grimes reported that much of the time at a recent hospital administrators convention he attended in Houston was spent discussing malpractice insurance. He said the general feeling was that legislation is needed to slow the cycle of larger lawsuit claims and subsequently higher costs for malpractice insurance for physicians.

In other business Tuesday night, Dr. J. Edwin Low reported that the hospital physician staff has been given until July 1 to fully implement a program mandated by the federal government of patient care review.

The deadline for full implementation was extended from March 1, he said, but the local medical staff has already begun complying with the federal law.

The law requires that hospital medical staffs perform screening tests on physicians' patients to determine illness and length of stay and treatment.

Low said local physicians have joined with medical associations in urging Congress to repeal the law and he reported that the American Medical Association has filed a lawsuit against the government to stop implementation of the law.

Low said he feels Congress will not repeal the law, but might revise it somewhat.

Board members authorized the signing of a contract between the hospital district and the Canyon Ambulance Service owned by Richard Bertrand.

Bertrand took over ownership of the service from Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors on May 1.

The contract, which Hospital District Attorney Reggie Reeves said is similar to a contract proposed by the City of Canyon, calls for the district to pay Bertrand an $800 per month subsidy to operate the service.

Reeves said the contract can be broken by the hospital district if Bertrand fails to comply with the contract, if he goes into bankruptcy, if he does not operate the service satisfactorily or if another ambulance service begins operating in the community.

City of Canyon officials have already signed their contract with Bertrand and are also paying $800 per month. Likewise, Randall County commissioners agreed to subsidize the service at $800 per month.

Reading . . .

believes, will probably be inculcating in individual students the desire to read for pleasure.

"At the elementary level we don't have any non-readers," she said, "but we do have some children who don't read. They read only what they have to read. They wouldn't choose to read for pleasure."

Mrs. McGregor said there seems to be a pattern in reading interest. Lower elementary grade students, for example, tend to read many, many books.

However, she said, by the time students reach junior high it is surprising the number who have never read a complete book.

"Even if we have only one or two or 10 (who have not read a full book) that's too many," she said.

But, how do you increase the desire of students to read?

Mrs. McGregor says one possibility might be to follow the example of a school in Austin.

There, the school takes a reading break once each day and all students, teachers, staff members, cafeteria workers and janitors stop whatever they're doing and take up a book for a reading spell.

"This way, even if a child didn't see reading at home, it makes him take a second look at it," she said. "I hope we can do something like this."

Another method, she said, is to stress reading in the classroom by having elementary level teachers take time out to read to their children each day.

Rehearsals For Tenth 'Texas' Season Begins

Rehearsals for the 10th season of the musical drama "TEXAS" have begun.

Sunday in the Fine Arts Building on the campus of the West Texas State University, members of the company began to gather to sign contracts and fill in W-2 forms.

In the formal lounge, the photographer, Ray Wagner, took their pictures for the Souvenir Program, then they joined others from their home-towns in the intimate theatre where photographer Jim Sands was taking group pictures for local papers.

The first meeting of the company was also held in the Brantley Iron Theatre, where the director, William Angus Moore, who has planned and steered the production since its conception, acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced the founder, Margaret Harper, Raymond Raillard, the executive vice-president of the organization, Margaret Moore the associate director, Royal Brantley, the musical director, and Charlotte Brantley, the costume designer. These leaders outlined the work of the next three weeks for opening on June 18. All of them have been with the show since the beginning.

James Kemmerling, technical director for eight seasons, followed. Next Pat Jarrett spoke. He has been in the sound and light booth since the beginning and is in charge there. Neil Hess, the choreographer since the opening in 1966, sent messages and met the cast Monday.
